

Correspondence

Dear Michelle Vetterkind,

I'm writing to express my thanks and support for the 2008 WBA student seminar. I am a student at Milwaukee Area Technical College and I received first place in the TV public affairs division. It is an honor and privilege to receive such recognition and exposure for collegial efforts in the media industry. On behalf of the students who strive to emulate professionalism and incorporate integrity into their course work, I believe that the WBA student seminar is an invaluable tool for those aspiring to be professionals in the media industry. Those who desire to stay at the forefront of their medium of choice also recognize that this means staying at the forefront of technology and the WBA student seminar is an excellent way to establish current industry trends for aspiring writers, producers, and the like. Again, I thank all who make this event possible and hope it continues to grow as the industry and the technology it utilizes evolves. It was a great event to attend and a great way to positively influence the future of media, which of course are the students.

Sincerely,
Matthew Kanios

To the WBA staff:

I would like to thank you for the time and effort that went into the Feb. 16 Student Seminar. This year's seminar was excellent because the speakers covered a variety of areas, including how the field is evolving. In addition, this seminar provided our students with those ever important contacts and provided a forum for showcasing student projects. A thanks is also in order to the Members of the Education Committee for a well-received agenda. And to all members of the WBA: thanks for your support this year, and in past years.

Thanks,
Pat Hastings, University of Wisconsin
School of Journalism and Mass Communication